LATER FROM THE ABYSSINIAN EXPEDITION.

London, April 13.

Official dispatches from Generals Merewether and Napier, dated at Antalo, March 27, report that the advance of the Abyssinian army under Gen. Theodore, consisting of 12,000 men, with 16 guns, had reached Dalanta, 30 miles from Antalo. The enemy is encamped on a very strong position on the summit of a high mountain. Gen. Napier, with the British forces and cavalry of the Shoa contingent, was preparing to attack the enemy on the 28th inst. Gen. Merewether, with the remainder of the British forces, was to follow Gen. Napier's movements. Gen. Napier's dispatch, dated Antalo, March 27, says: "Our advance guard, consisting of 1,000 men, with two guns, reached Dalanta on the 26th inst. The enemy, with artillery and supply trains, is three days' march behind. The country is mountainous and very difficult for artillery and trains. King Theodore is near Magdala, where he intends to make a stand."

A letter from Cape Verde says they are well. The health of the troops is good.

The effective force under General Napier now advancing on Magdala numbers 5,500 men.

Commercial and Monetary.

LONDON, April 13—Evening.

A grand review of the volunteers was held at Portsmouth to-day. Over 30,000 men were in the ranks. There were vast crowds of spectators present, and the manœuvring generally excited much interest.

PERMANENT BANK.

The Permanent Bankers' Club meeting commenced to-day, and will continue through the week at Cannes. The delegates were met by Florence, the Prior bearing newspapers by the ream, and newspapers of any sovereign by bargain.

FRANCE.

ANXIETY OF FRENCHMEN TO ESCAPE THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE NEW ARMY BILL.

PARIS, April 13.

La Liberte has another editorial calculated to alarm the peaceful disposition and sensitive nerves of the French people. It says that the preparations of the French Government, the naturalization of the United States Minister Forth, to be continually creating with Frenchmen, who are anxious to escape the military service to which they are liable under the provisions of the new Army bill. Knowing nothing of the American laws of naturalization, and having only a vague idea that naturalization papers from a foreign country are a protection to the holder, they are literally besieging the United States representatives for naturalization papers. Many of the applicants are citizens of the United States, and the application is made during the five years' actual residence in America, as required by law.

PARIS MARKET.

PARIS, April 13.

The Paris races began at Longchamps this afternoon, and were fairly attended. The principal prize was won by Prospect, owned by the Marquis De Lagrange. M. Petit Carreyel was the sole owner of the Latter prize. The Marquis De Lagrange's horse Longchamp took the Ladies prize.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The London Mornings Star, City of London Herald, and other papers are very doubtful whether the armies will prove to be of any use in the future. They say that if the new system of warfare is to be carried out, the armies will prove a dreadful curse to the countries of the Continent. The Star, of March 31, says: "Our observer at Paris reports that the Emperor is very much depressed in spirits at the slight hold he has upon the army. The men

WASHINGTON, April 14.

THE IMPEACHMENT TRIAL.

In the impeachment trial of Andrew Johnson, the examination of witnesses to-day, the galleries were crowded at the opening of the Court, owing to the announcement of the illness of Mr. Stanbery was sick, and the fact of the counsel were not well-supported by other counsel, had prevented a full attendance. The Court was not informed immediately after assuming to be

INTELLIGENCE

In the Senate, the number of printed 4,000 copies of the impeach next regular name to 25, on motion of Mr. Sumner, the Senate commenced to-day with Mr. Sherman on the stand. On this occasion, on examination offered by Mr. Boutwell, brought up the question of his re-rights, and that of every representative in the Senate. Mr. Lansbery, of Rhode Island, claimed the cases of the little States, and in two was assisted by Senator Johnson, Mr. Morton, while he fashioned new symmetry with those who opposed equal representation, and the opposition to it was equally interesting. Mr. Sherman, in reply, showed that while we hardly the time to discuss such a question, differences of opinion were to be expected, and that the Senate adjourning of the bill of Reconstruction was passed. The Senate then went into executive session and at its close adjourned.

GENERAL SHERMAN BEFORE THE MANAGERS.

General Sherman was before the Managers for nearly two hours to-day. He was examined in relation to the removal of Stanton, so far as he had any knowledge of it, but no material point was elicited. He was not cross-examined, and was contained in his testimony yesterday was elicited.

IMPORTANT DEPOSITIONS.

It appears that the plan to get answers to questions which the Senate had ruled out by having a member of the Court propose them, was to be carried out. Mr. Bingham, Mr. Boutwell, through the conversation of certain persons in the Senate, some of whom, when, where, and what, while earnest by discussing the question of the Senate admitting of the reading of depositions, will be heard by the Senate, and if the Senate permits in refusing, some members of the Court are going to use the same had expected to close the case to-day, or at least by an early hour this evening. To-night it is believed he will be present to-morrow, but whether he will be able to proceed with the case, or whether other members of the counsel will have to be examined, remains to be seen. The testimony Mr. Stanbery has been taken to-day, and it is thought the day without him.
